The Magick Draft:

Finding Joy and Truth in the Writing Process

WHAT:

At its core, it's a writing class. But it's not. We will use tools that I have curated in my own writing process to make it fun. It's a little bit of magick, a little bit shadow work, a little bit of inner child healing and a little bit of writing. We will not cover writing 101-- Story structure, plot, character development, etc. Should I expand into a level 2 course, I would spend the last 45 minutes of each class discussing these annoying little buggers.

WHO:

This beginner level class is for anyone. Anyone who has always wanted to write, but never found time or inspiration. Seasoned writers who have lost the joy in their own writing process. Or anyone who needs a group activity as the nights get longer. All are welcome and all I ask is that they come with an open mind and a notebook, a deck if they have one. And that they pay of course, but the 1st two are the most important.

Finding Joy and Truth in the Writing Process

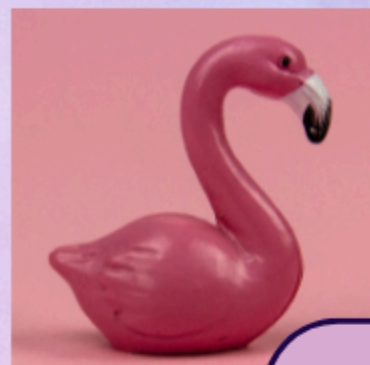

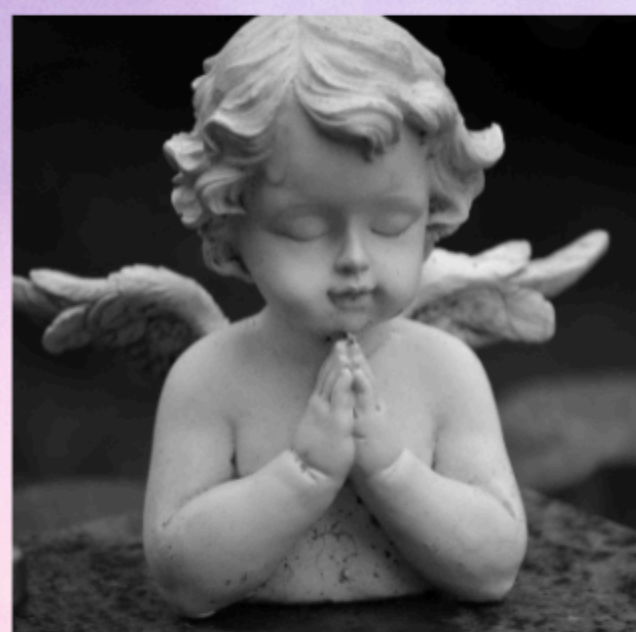

Trust the process

A creative writing course that helps you connect with your characters on a deeper level.

All writers 15+ are welcome to sign up for this course.

Bring an open mind, a notebook, and a deck if you have one.

LASCIVIOUS

Adjective: Wanton or lustful. That which excited sexual desires is lascivious.

Grandpa Jones, upon being informed that the dancers at the club had done a can-can for us, denounced such lascivious goings on.

DEFIANCE

Definition: Boldly resisting an opposing force, even in the face of defeat.

Physical Signs: curled lip, challenging stare

Internal Sensations: Tense muscles, hot face

Mental Responses: Cloudy thoughts, clings to anger.
